

EXTENSION MASTER FOOD VOLUNTEER PROGRAM

COMING SOON TO GASTON COUNTY

The NC State Extension Master Food Volunteer (EMFV) program provides NC residents the opportunity to engage with their communities by supporting NC Cooperative Extension programming in the areas of nutrition, cooking, food safety, and local food. NC Cooperative Extension provides evidence-based information through community classes and events.

*An interest meeting will be held on 12/15/2026 at 6pm
at the Lucile Tatum Center, 959 Osceola Street, Gastonia, NC 28054. If you are interested in joining this program, contact Agent Jonette Mungo, jmungo@ncsu.edu.*

NC Cooperative Extension prohibits discrimination and harassment on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, sex (including pregnancy), disability, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity, and veteran status.

GROW.COOK.EAT.

NC STATE

Extension Master Food Volunteer Program